

Discussion guide:

1. Did anything you learned in «Saved» surprise you? What made the biggest impression on you in the documentary? Why?
2. Andy and his mother Minji took a big risk by fleeing North Korea. Why do you think they chose to leave their home country? What would make you flee your country?
3. On their way, they actually bought poison so that they could kill themselves quickly if they got caught by Chinese border police. This is a common strategy among North Korean defectors. Why do you think they would rather die than be sent back?
4. (Can be skipped): Take some time to read the other rescue stories. If you only had money to rescue three of these defectors, who would you choose?
5. Why do you think China abdicates its responsibility according to international refugee law by forcibly repatriating North Korean escapees? What do you feel about your country's response to the international refugee crisis?
6. Four out of ten North Koreans are undernourished, according to World Food Program. 1 in 5 children are stunted. How can sending seeds help?(World Food Programme)
7. Freedom of religion or belief does not exist in North Korea. The regime treats religion as a threat, particularly faiths associated with the West, such as Christianity, and is known to arrest, torture, imprison, and even execute religious believers. The broad scale persecution of Christians that has been carried out in North Korea since the 1950s, has compelled the surviving church leaders and Christians to live life on a bare minimum level as underground Christians. How would it be for you to practice your faith or belief in such a secret way – always risking your and your families life if you were discovered?
8. Tim challenges the Christians in South Korea to reconsider how they use their money in light of the severe humanitarian crisis just across the border. Do you agree with his views? How do you feel about how the churches in your own country use money?
9. Tim says in the movie that «there is no question that it is a test of faith when you hear about some of the extraordinary treatment that North Koreans endure». What do you think he means? Do you agree with his explanation of God's and man's role in this crisis?

10. Read Tim's suggested Action Points. Which of these do you think would be easiest to incorporate into your life? Do you have other suggestions for action?

6. Lobby your national leaders (executive and legislative branches especially) to actively engage in the UN's Universal Periodic Review of the human rights situation in North Korea (DPRK)
7. Hold national leaders to account for foreign policy with China that often tends to favor business interests over human rights, especially China's longstanding policy of forced repatriation of North Korean refugees.
